“I am incredibly proud of the talented Executive Staff I have assembled. This group of strong individuals possesses a valuable combination of extensive private sector experience coupled with a deep understanding of government operations. They will assist in positioning my Administration to hit the ground running. In the times of serious economic crisis we face as a nation, a state and a county their expertise will be invaluable. These people with diverse skill sets have been brought together to deliver reform, provide strong oversight and help as I fight for the people of Ulster County.

I am committed to efficiently delivering services to the 183,000 people of Ulster County and simultaneously building a strong foundation for the future. To this end I have structured government oversight into functional units much like in private business. I look forward to working with the Legislature to address the many challenges facing Ulster County going forward.”
